About Social Responsibilities Round Table

Since 1969, members of the Social Responsibilities Round Table (SRRT) have worked to make the American Library Association (ALA) more democratic. They have also worked to promote a more progressive agenda.

In doing so, SRRT has provided a home within ALA for progressive librarians, library workers, and supporters who agree to promote social responsibility as a core value of librarianship.

The SRRT Newsletter, in publication since 1969, has been a constant source of alternative viewpoints on libraries and their role in society.
